

MARCH 2008

ESPN DEPORTES JOINS ADLINK LINE-UP

ESPN Deportes television offers unparalleled Spanish-language sports programming, featuring more than 1,400 live and/or original hours presented annually.

2008 CONCACAF U-23 TOURNAMENT

ESPN Deportes will have full coverage of the 2008 CONCACAF Men's Olympic Qualifiers. The top two teams will be awarded a spot to compete in the 2008 Beijing Olympics. Mexico, USA, Cuba, Guatemala, Panama, Honduras, Haiti, Canada will compete in the tournament.

MEXICAN FIRST DIVISION SOCCER

ESPN Deportes continues live coverage of the top soccer league in Mexico. Following each game Fútbol Picante will provide live analysis and preview upcoming games.

THE ABIERTO MEXICANO TENIS

The Abierto Mexicano Tennis (Mexican Tennis Open) is the most important tennis tournament in Latin America. Played on clay courts in Acapulco, top-class participants from around to determine who will participate in the US Open.

MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

ESPN Deportes features an exclusive Spanish broadcast of Monday Night Football. In addition, ESPN Deportes presents NFL Esta Noche, a half-hour pre-game show leading into the network's presentation of MNF.

NBA ON ESPN DEPORTES

ESPN Deportes airs Spanish-language coverage of the NBA, with over 60 regular season games and coverage of the NBA Conference Finals. ESPN Deportes also is guaranteed re-air rights for all seven games of the NBA Finals.

Sports Center

ESPN Deportes airs an original, exclusive Spanish-language version of SportsCenter, with expert analysts and highlights recapping the day's most important sporting events. This nightly show features everything from on the field action to off the field happenings and interviews.

adlink.com